LEVEL 01
GOLDEN DOME DASH

LM ARENA / COMPLETE NON-PLAYER ASSET PRODUCTION ORDER

Vendor theft > Expanded Quad > Short Golden Dome scramble > Fox gets away

START x=0 LEVEL END x=6620

Quad owns ~69% of the route and most player decisions.

CRITICAL: This PDF is the prompt. Execute each asset job. Do not merely summarize it.

Character exclusion: Cinnamon Fuzzbutt is already supplied. No new player character art.

Priority: P0 is the playable-day asset list; P1 only after working gameplay.

Verification: requested file names and sizes are TARGETS until physical outputs are inspected.

Planned image outputs: 73 | P0: 33 | P1: 40 | Audio contracts: 14

Repo: westkitty/ShakeDown | Canonical runtime plan: Canvas 2D, 960x540, fixed 60 Hz. | Source reference sheets: 2 embedded following pages.

01 EXECUTE THIS PACKET

You are the image/audio/game-asset production agent for ShakeDown Level 1: Golden Dome Dash. Read all pages and execute the named non-Cinnamon asset jobs in priority order. The visual source sheets on pages that follow are mandatory style references. Produce an actual independently loadable file for each requested output and record verification; a generated prompt or gallery preview is not delivery.

Priority rule. Complete and validate the lean P0 asset set first. If time, generation rate, or model access prevents completion, stop at a truthful checkpoint with an exact P0 deficit ledger. Do not spend the day on P1 ornament while core enemies, terrain, or backgrounds are missing.

Subject exclusion. NEVER generate Cinnamon Fuzzbutt, alter his approved source sheets, or treat this art as source output for a new player character. The two sheets are visual law for palette, scale, outlining and silhouette matching only.

Fox restriction. His canonical reference is not yet approved. The limited fox asset design in this document is deliberately a provisional candidate. Generate consistent candidates, label them provisional, and never assert they replace the approved rival. No boss, no additional enemies, no cutscenes beyond theft and escape.

Independence. Every named art asset must be its own standalone file. No contact sheets, montages, 3x3 matrices, multi-view panels, or image model-generated sprite grids. Approved state and animation pairs are created as separate files, normalized and packed by deterministic code only if necessary.

Runtime integration contract

Viewport 960x540; side-scrolling world 6620x960; tile grid 32x32; fixed update 60Hz. Player reference runtime cells are 64x64 as planned by the repository, but this agent does not generate them. Graphics are rendered pixel-crisp with appropriate nearest-neighbor scaling. Standard game objects are side-on orthographic; backgrounds are painted side-view parallax layers; interface symbols face the camera.

The listed file paths, frame targets, pivot positions, and hitboxes are production proposals; asset existence must be proven. Collision boxes are authored in game data and validated against visuals, never inferred by source-pixel contact. The runtime must resolve logical asset IDs through a manifest built from files that physically exist.

OUTPUT CONTRACT / FILES + MANIFEST + 960x540 VISUAL CHECK + FAILED-ITEM LEDGER

02 ART DIRECTION: REFERENCE LOCKS

Use the supplied master sheet for the source palette, thick near-black/brown outlines, proportions, limited SNES-inspired shaded forms, and orange/cream contrast; use the action sheet for gameplay-scale line density, frame energy, consistent pose silhouettes, and shadow/VFX language. Do not recreate Cinnamon.

Visual grammar. Legible pixel clusters with flat stepped highlights; 2-3 values per material; warm light from upper-left; a dark brown outer outline between 2-4 source pixels at 256px character-source scale; warm cream stone; deep blue/gold collegiate textiles; green reserved mostly for Shake-related collectibles. Text is rendered in app code, never generated onto textures.

Environment. Place architectural identity in painted backgrounds (Gold Dome silhouette, campus brick halls, lawns and lanterns), while keeping every collision-relevant path, jumpable step, bridge, hazard and lift as independent sprites/tiles. Background contrast must remain lower than gameplay silhouettes. No photoreal photos, no perfectly flat toy-vector look, no painterly blur, no proprietary logo or licensing presumption.

Playable level, not geographic reproduction. Optimize the campus into a fun 2D obstacle course. The quad occupies most of the route; Notre Dame is indicated through the Golden Dome, collegiate stone/brick, mature trees, and blue/gold festival signs. Avoid real-location claims about the exact paths. Do not add the stadium or unrelated landmarks.

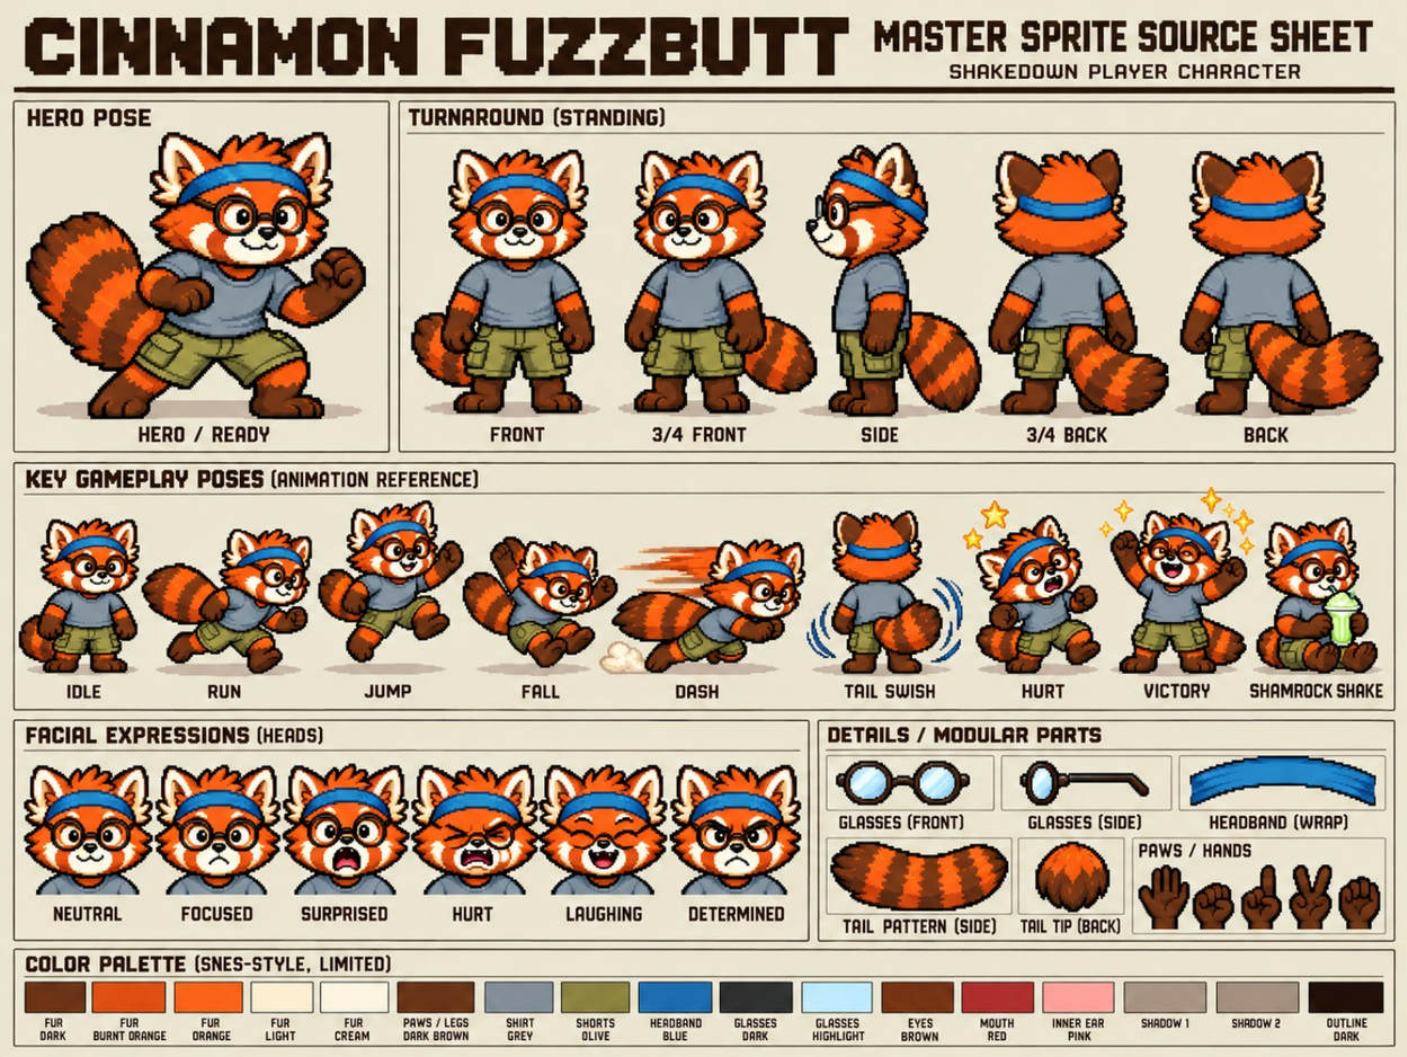

Palette targets (approximate environment coordination, not sampled user-canon RGB): navy #193958, warm gold #CC9B32, cream stone #D8CDB6, pale sky #B3DDEC, dark brown outline #291E1A, emerald shake #69B66B, warm orange accent #DC692D, hazard paper red #BD4550. Source character sheets remain authority where they differ.

Forbidden outputs: player character redraws, random Notre Dame students/enemy people, photoreal campus assets, unreadable letters, non-transparent sprite backdrops, dropshadows clipping alpha, watermarks, baked HUD into backgrounds, baked platforms into scenery, monster/Fox with red-panda tail or glasses.

PASS TEST: At 1x in a 960x540 scene, a viewer sees the path, one enemy, pulse state, and pickup instantly. No visual detective work.

VISUAL AUTHORITY 1 / MASTER MODEL SHEET

Reference layout preserved; re-encoded solely for PDF size. Original user attachment remains upstream reference authority. Do not strip this page from the LM Arena handoff.

Interpretation: Costume and palette identity: burnt orange/cream fur, striped plush tail, circular black glasses, blue headband, gray T-shirt, olive shorts, dark paws; classic pixel-game proportions. No generation of Cinnamon requested.

VISUAL AUTHORITY 2 / GAMEPLAY ACTION SHEET

Reference layout preserved; re-encoded solely for PDF size. Original user attachment remains upstream reference authority. Do not strip this page from the LM Arena handoff.

Interpretation: Gameplay line density, dynamic readability, animation energy, dust/impact style, action-facing side projection. Independent state images only, never a model hallucinated sprite grid.

03 THE REVISED PLAYABLE STAGE

Design target: 3-5 minutes on a first clean completion, ~1.5-2.5 minutes on practiced replay. The quad owns the majority of jumps and all meaningful new enemy/gimmick challenges. The Dome is a short payoff climb; the finale is scripted. NO boss, no cake, no stadium, no long playable river zone.

04 THE GO IRISH PULSE: ONE MECHANIC

The campus responds to a clear 5.0s cycle. A nonverbal blue/gold lead-in ring and mechanical click warn at least 0.50s before activation. GO state lasts 2.0s, during which banner bridges extend and gold lifts rise. After this, they reset to inert for a total 5.0s loop. The state machine follows simulation time, NOT absolute audio timestamps.

At Drum Beacons, a valid tail-swish inside 72 world pixels refreshes the activation state for 2.3s, with a 5.0s cooldown. Repeated hits during an already-active window extend activation to max(existing end, now+2.3) once; no accumulating queue. Cooldown persists through pause; game time freezes while hidden/unfocused.

Safety is non-negotiable: an occupied bridge remains solid while a player stands on it; after departure keep it solid for 0.65s, then retract. A miss cannot destroy progression: first bridge has a lower walkaround; later lifts have retry footholds. No instant lethal drop. Reduce Motion retains clear static blue/gold state indicators and does not require sound.

Teach / Test / Combine / Pay off: (1) automatic banner unfolds on safe ground, (2) cross short bridge, (3) manual beacon raises one lift, (4) mid-quad combination with Cup Crawler and cannon, (5) Dome climb reuses prior skills - no novel enemy introduced at the end.

Movement + fail-state proposal

Player controller from repository plan: move, variable jump, buffered jump (0.13s), coyote time (0.11s), double-jump, short dash, close tail-swish. Target maximum run speed about 240 world px/s, then measure and adjust gap widths using real player arcs rather than static assumptions. Starting health 3, telegraphed hit removes one, 1.0s invulnerability. Pit returns player to safe ground/checkpoint; never instant kill during tutorial.

Maintain independent collision geometry: Cup Crawler 38x30; Cannon 60x58; bridge top width 224; gold lift top width 104; utility cart standing surface 160x16; vendor/benches decorative unless explicit colliders say otherwise. Treat numbers as initial validation targets not proven art facts.

P0 PROOF: A player using muted touch controls must beat the entire level without requiring frame-perfect pulse timing.

05 ASSET PIPELINE / FILE CONTRACT

Every entry in the register has a planned file path, exact final target size, planned generator canvas size, registration pivot, priority and distinct brief. These are instructions for generating outputs, not evidence of outputs. All non-background sprites are isolated with honest alpha; the sky is opaque. Source images have no handwritten frame labels or surrounding UI.

For all sprite/prop/icon source canvases render at 4x final export and then deterministically crop into approved bounding box, place with padding at prescribed pivot, and perform deliberate pixel cleanup/nearest-neighbor reduction. For 960x540 backgrounds use 1920x1080 source with deliberate detail reduction and crop-only scaling. Output target is 8-bit per channel PNG; decoded RGBA for alpha assets; do NOT mark a checkerboard as transparency.

Anchors: TILE top-left (0,0); fixed-size props and enemies horizontally center + foot/base at bottom margin (normally x=W/2, y=H-4), UI/VFX/collectibles center; backgrounds top-left. For state pairs keep exact same canvas, location of ground contact, outer silhouette where unchanged, and common pivot across states. Zero rotations or rescaling between asset frames at integration.

Transitions: Banner inactive/active and lift off/on must visually register in the same rectangle. No uncanny changes in size or light. Cup Crawler two walking frames are identical except legs/wheels. Cannon 3 states identical except warning/fire indicators. Fox thief/run/taunt preserve a single Fox identity. Retouch/rework mismatches before packaging.

Manifest AFTER creation: Each actual output needs id, path, width, height, alpha flag, nonzero-alpha bbox, origin, camera/view, relevant collision preset, SHA-256 of physical file, source reference, prompt hash, generated at, approval status. If absent, DO NOT create a fabricated approved manifest entry. A request register is not a runtime asset manifest.

Art licensing: generate original visual art rather than using a trademark image as a sprite. Notre Dame visual inspiration is permitted as a visual brief, but no unlicensed university official logos/music assumed. If exact signage is important, author text procedurally in app.

06 ALL IMAGE OUTPUTS / REGISTER

08 AUDIO JOBS / GENERATION OR CODE SYNTH

Audio is important to the chase but not allowed to block the release. Render individual mono/stereo OGG or WAV assets ONLY when audio-generation tools exist; verify length, loudness, loop boundary and file opening. Otherwise supply deterministic WebAudio recipes matching the described cues and record source type=PROCEDURAL; never fake actual sound files. Ambient volume must remain controllable and optional.

ID	ASSET	DURATION / SONIC INSTRUCTION
AU-01	Level loop music	18-28 s seamless. Light brisk 130-145 BPM original collegiate-style march groove: kick/snare, pizzicato bass, playful brass-like synth motif; no copyrighted school melody or chants. Output OGG or WAV plus provenance; fallback procedural sequencer; loop seam tested.
AU-02	Fox theft cue sfx	0.45-0.8 s. Comic ascending muted brass + sliding plucked bass, brisk and cheeky.
AU-03	Jump sfx	0.08-0.15 s. Short springy pitched ascending pop, under 0.15 s.
AU-04	Double jump sfx	0.13-0.23 s. Second ascending chime over springy transient; distinguish from single jump.
AU-05	Tail swish sfx	0.10-0.20 s. Compact brush whoosh with a short low pop, avoid sharp loud noise.
AU-06	Pickup sfx	0.10-0.22 s. Tiny two-tone sparkle, bright but not shrill.
AU-07	Checkpoint sfx	0.25-0.55 s. Gentle resolved major triad arcade chime.
AU-08	GO pulse sfx	0.28-0.55 s. Two percussive drum hits and short cheerful brass swell; a visual substitute exists.
AU-09	IRISH reset sfx	0.18-0.36 s. Downward paired drum rim taps, softer than GO.
AU-10	Cannon tell sfx	0.20-0.45 s. Two warning clicks with small rattling paper shuffle.
AU-11	Cannon fire sfx	0.15-0.35 s. Soft party pop and fluttering paper whoosh; restrained loudness.
AU-12	Damage sfx	0.12-0.27 s. Soft but clear dissonant bump; never piercing.
AU-13	Fox escapes sfx	0.55-1.0 s. Comic descending trombone-like slide or pluck, no speech required.
AU-14	Level clear sfx	1.8-3.2 s. Original triumphant brass/chiptune cadence with playful final wrong-note chuckle.

09 IMPLEMENTATION-READY VALIDATION

Structural automated checks. For every planned P0 asset: file exists, PNG decodes without error, final dimensions match exact record, RGBA and alpha coverage match flags, non-empty visible alpha bbox, no transparent matte checkerboard, no alpha halos above acceptance threshold, no fully blank frame, no multi-item panorama where one file is required. For tile set: adjacent seams verified across test 3x3 mosaics; no different canvas sizes. For paired states: keyed feature anchors fixed to <=2 output pixels after normalization.

Visual tests. Assemble a 960x540 representative shot at quad baseline y448 containing tree, stone path, one Cup Crawler, one cannon, one token, a drum, and active banner bridge with existing Cinnamon reference sprite. Show secondary screenshot with inactive versions. Reject if the visual focus moves to background rather than actor/platform; reject if the Fox resembles Cinnamon; reject if collectible indistinguishable from safe confetti.

Browser tests (game agent). Real touch controls (move+hold jump+swish), keyboard, pause/resume, level reload, checkpoint respawn, Fox exit, all asset loading, portrait/mobile letterbox, muted/reduced motion, 960x540 viewport, and high-DPR rendering. No claims of BROWSER-EXECUTED without browser traversal. No console errors or missing requests. Measure representative mobile frame time before claiming 60fps.

Playtest contract. A novice can complete without reading a long briefing; initial 20 seconds no forced damage; there is one fair enemy before cannon; at least one pulse visible before it is required; player can recover from a missed cycle; end works without a token quota; previously observed active bridges remain safe underfoot; checkpoint prevents replaying whole quad on late mistakes.

One-day release gate. Functional P0 files + deterministic manifest + gameplay route + real browser walkthrough outrank P1 decoration. If any P0 visuals are not generated, use explicitly labeled project placeholders without rebranding as finished art. Do not ship an incomplete false PASS.

Final delivery structure. asset files in specified directories; `level1_verified_manifest.json` generated from physical files; `level1_asset_qa.json` status for EVERY P0/P1 item; `level1_scene_proof.png`; `level1_audio_qa.json` with actual/generated/procedural/blocked labels; source prompt records; repo commit only after game agent integration checks.

10 PATCH AND REVISION COMMANDS FOR LM ARENA

If alpha failed: Keep the exact subject and pose from the accepted candidate. Replace only the background with actual transparency. Remove matte, edge fringe and cropped interior color, preserving opaque cream and white detail; validate RGBA pixels on checkerboard viewer.

If identity drifted: Use the prior accepted master for that same enemy/Fox candidate as image-to-image reference. Preserve ear angle, muzzle, chassis, eye count, scale, material and baseline; vary only the required pose/state. The source Cinnamon sheets govern style, never Fox identity.

If a tile does not seam: Keep the tile center art, adjust exact edge pixels to match the neighboring paired side. Render 3x3 wrap tests. Do not solve by blurring or adding borders.

If a background is too busy: Simplify mid-field detail and raise distant atmospheric fade. Remove faux platforms, foreground objects, lettered banners and attention-grabbing saturated patches. Keep the recognizable dome silhouette.

If the level stalls or scope slips: Complete missing P0 first. Replace optional VFX with code circles/particle squares, optional UI art with DOM symbols, optional distant background with reused verified scenery. Never sacrifice Cup Crawler, clear pulse state art, pickups, ground tiles, or Dome backdrop.

If the image tool cannot supply exact pixel sizes: Treat its rendering as source. Use deterministic crop, pad and resize to correct canvas with documented origin, preserving full silhouettes; inspect at true 1x scale. A file with correct size but unreadable content still fails.

Output verdict vocabulary

PLANNED: only specified. GENERATED-UNVERIFIED: file physically exists, not yet inspected. FILE-VALIDATED: decoded/dimensions/alpha proven. VISUALLY-APPROVED: compared against sheets and 1x scene. INTEGRATED-UNVERIFIED: game references file but no journey. BROWSER-PASS: target journey actually executed. Never collapse these to a single optimistic green check.
